Intro

By 1920, a majority of the US population lived in urban centers, which offered new economic opportunities for women, international migrants, and internal migrants

New technologies and manufacturing techniques helped focus the U.S. economy on the production of consumer goods, contributing to improved standards of living, greater personal mobility, and better communications systems.

New forms of mass media such as radio and cinema, contributed to the spread of national culture as well as greater awareness of regional cultures.

Migration gave rise to new forms of art and literature that expressed ethnic and regional identities, such as the Harlem Renaissance.
